PADUCAH MAN GETS FIFTY MILLIONS

Albert Shelton, An Engineer
Becomes Heir To Big Fortune.

Paducah, K., Nov. 7.—Last Monday morning a New York detective arrived in Paducah searching for a man named Albert Shelton to whom a rich uncle in Canada wished to leave his estate estimated at $50,000,000. The detective's quest was given publicity in a local paper, and after receiving no response during that day or the next, the sleuth returned to Chicago to pursue his quest, promising to return Saturday. Later, Edward C. Riley, register clerk at the postoffice, discovered that an Albert Shelton had rented a postoffice box. When Shelton called for his mail on Thursday, Riley found that he compared exactly with the newspaper description. He questioned him, and Shelton turned out to be the man sought. He was shown a copy of the paper and recalled a brother of his mother's, a Canadian brewer, reputed to be rich. He had never seen him.

Shelton immediately got in touch with his searchers, and the detective will return tomorrow. Shelton has promised his discoverers here a handsome present if he comes into the fortune. The uncle is Albert White, of London, Ontario, well known as the proprietor of a big brewing interest. Shelton is a railroad engineer.

Weather For The Week.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Freezing weather as far south as Florida is predicted for the first few days of this week by the weather bureau.

A disturbance will appear about Tuesday in the extreme northwest and it will move southeastward accompanied by rains or snows that will extend over the northwest generally, and by rains that will reach the lake region and the great central valleys toward the end of the week. This disturbance will be followed by local snows and a considerable drop in the temperature over the northwest near the close of the week.

Basuto Idea of Future Life.

The Basutos believe that the souls of the wicked flutter forever blindly through the jungles of the earth, knocking their heads against trees and cliffs, floundering through swirling rivers and dank, dark swamps and suffering such other casualties and hardships as would naturally beset a sightless flying creature.

Who's The Joke On?

Imported cigarettes seized by Government were found to be imitations of a New York. Most of the plumage seized by customs inspectors as cigarettes, which are prohibited from this country, proved to be imitations made of horsehair, customs officials announced yesterday, after completing their appraisal of the confiscated ornaments. Originally considered by the inspectors to be worth $3,000 to $4,000, the value of the so called cigarettes has dwindled to $400, and they will probably be returned to the women who were forced to surrender them.

Appraisers said the imitations were clever and had been sold to American women in European shops at prices equal to those of the genuine plumage. Only 10 per cent of the seizures proved to be worth the value placed on them by their owners.

AN INCESSANT COUGH.

into my Throat.

A severe cough is always a grave symptom. It may not indicate organic disease of the lungs. Even though the cough is a functional disturbance it is of sufficient gravity to demand prompt attention.

The dropping of mucus from the back part of the nose into the throat indicates nasal catarrh. Sometimes this goes on a long time before the patient pays any attention to it. It is stated on good authority that mucus dropping into the throat in this way is apt to excite catarrh of the stomach. At any rate, the condition ought to be corrected as soon as possible.

Mrs. Bourland, of Frankston, Texas, found after using Peruna that not only did the incessant cough disappear, but the dropping of mucus into the throat had also ceased. Read what she says:

"For twenty-three years I was a constant sufferer from chronic catarrh. I had a severe misery and burning in the top of my head. There was almost a continual dropping of mucus into my throat, which caused frequent expectoration. My entire system gradually became involved, and my condition grew worse. I had an incessant cough and frequent attacks of bilious colic, from which it seemed I could not recover. My bowels also became affected, causing alarming attacks of hemorrhages. I tried many remedies, which gave only temporary relief, or no relief at all. I at last tried Peruna, and in three days I was relieved of the bowel derangement. After using five bottles I was entirely cured."

"I most cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna to any one similarly afflicted."

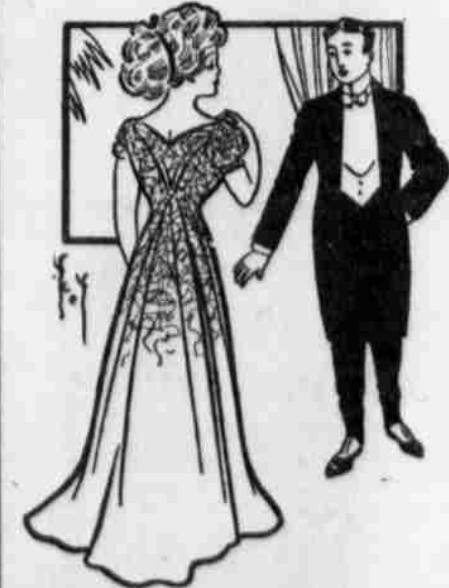

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

"ROOKIE" OF THE NORTHWEST

Young Canadian Mounted Policeman
Must Have Indomitable Courage and Endurance.

If a murder is committed in an English or American city, says a writer in the Wide World, the whole police and detective force of the place, numbering perhaps hundreds of men, is put into action. If a similar crime is committed in the Mackenzie river district one man only is detailed to bring in the murderer; and in nine cases out of ten he does it. He is absolutely fearless in the face of odds, for only men of indomitable courage are retained in the service. From six months to a year is the time for a "rookie" to prove himself. After that first year he becomes either a "reliable" of the Royal Mounted or a "discarded." In the fifth month of his service a young, smooth-faced "rookie" cornered three desperate cattle thieves in the Cypress hills, east of Lethbridge, fought them to a standstill, and brought them into headquarters single handed, one of them almost dead of his wounds. A little over a year later this same "rookie," whose name was Barry, was sent out after a man-killer with those words which are epic in the annals of the Royal Mounted: "Don't come back until you get him." The writer met this man 800 miles north of civilization. He had been after his man for three months, and he was still after him. He followed his instructions to the letter. He did not come back until he got him, though it took him seven months to do the job, and he traveled over 2,000 miles.

HIS IDEA

Maisie—Do you think a woman can truly love but once?

Morton—Sure; if it's her only chance.

CHOICE OF THEORIES.

Two theories are advanced in an effort to account for the presence of a goat in the top of a 40-foot tree near Classville, Mo. One is that the goat climbed the tree to escape from wolves and another is it laid down on the tree when it, the tree, was young, and was carried up by natural growth. Based upon a rather limited knowledge of the Missouri correspondent, our theory is that the goat was carried to its lofty perch by a brilliant flight of imagination.—Birmingham News.

BIBLE CLASS OF DEAF-MUTES

That at Atlanta, Ga., is the Original of Nine Now in Various Southern Cities.

There is no denominational life in the deaf-mute Bible class of Atlanta, Ga., though it is taught each Sunday morning in the schoolroom of St. Mark's Methodist church. Their affliction is the bond that unites its members in their study of the Word of God.

The Atlanta class is the original of nine that exist now in the south. The eight others are in Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga, Louisville, Birmingham, New Orleans, Raleigh and Jackson, Miss. The Atlanta class is the only one among them whose teacher is possessed of normal hearing and speech.

The sign language of ideas, in contrast with that of letters, is used almost wholly in the class. The letters were too slow, the teacher found very early in his experience—though the authorities from whom he learned the language counseled the use of letter signs as much more proper. The scholars deemed them dull. Then he tried the idea signs, flashing his meaning quickly to the eyes of his class, and their response in awakened interest was immediate. The sign for Jesus, for instance, is made by touching the open palm of each hand with the middle finger of the opposite hand, this denoting the holes made there in the Christ's hands by the spikes of the crucifixion.—Christian Herald.

COURSE HE WAS

Katherine—Has he been bald very long?

Kidder—Yes; he was born bald.

MAN'S SURE DUTY IN LIFE.

Whether we regard life as a lane leading to a dead wall—a mere bag'n end, as the French would say—or whether we think of it as a vestibule or gymnasium, where we wait our turn and prepare our faculties for some noble destiny; whether we thunder in a pulpit, or pule in little aesthetic poetry books about its vanity and brevity; whether we look justly for years of health and vigor, or are about to mount into a bath-chair, as a step toward the hearse; in each and all of these views and situations there is but one conclusion possible: that a man should stop his ears against paralyzing terror, and run the race that is set before him with a single mind.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

DYE FROM MOSS.

Beautiful shades of brown may be had by the dyer whose home is in the country from the use of easily acquired materials. The brown moss and lichens that grow plentifully in some sections on rocks, fallen trees and fences make a delightful dye, giving a fast color and one that will not fade as do many brown dyes. Boil the moss in enough water to rather more than cover it. Strain it and put in the goods. For light brown only a short time is required. For darker shades leave longer in the dye. If left in a very long time the color will deepen until it is almost black.

BREAKING OFF.

"You say you occasionally smoke one of your wife's Christmas cigars?"

"Yes; I dug 'em up the other day and they are a great help in my present situation."

"What is that?"

"I am trying to quit tobacco for good."—Pittsburgh Post.

HER DUTY.

"I am going to call this boat the Milkmaid."

"Why such a name?"

"Because she is going to skim the waves."
